Local Boxers Fare Well In N.C.

Lewis Elder of Appomattox was matched against Mike Patterson of Gastonia, N. C. when the Appomattox Boxing Team went to Roxboro, North Carolina on November 4, 1978 for a series of boxing matches. Elder rushed out in the first round to show his opponent his boxing skills, with a combination of punches managed to stun his opponent. Once he saw his opponent was stunned, he was smart enough to start throwing all power punches. Elder won his fight in the first round by a K.O. He is 11 years old and weighs 73 pounds.

Tim Lawson was matched against experienced Patrick Derick of Gastonia, N. C. the same night. Lawson fought with the heart of a lion and the fury of a hurricane. After the second round, Lawson's seconds' advised him he had lost two rounds. But this did not stop Lawson, he went out in the third round and managed to deck Derick and almost knocked Derick out. Lawson lost the fight by a narrow margin but managed to keep the crowd on its feet for three rounds. Lawson is 11 years old and weighs 80 pounds.

Ronnie Napier of Appomattox fought Keith Thomas of Roxboro, N. C. With hard punching, Napier managed to win the first round but in the process jammed his thumb. Chief second Jack Torbert made Napier retire after the first round because, as Torbert explained, it is impossible to box with one hand. Thomas won this fight. Napier, 14 years old, weighs 117 pounds.

The North Carolina Boxing Commissioner can't understand how Appomattox can keep sending these boxers to North Carolina without boxing trunks, shoes or jersey's and they still fight with the pride of champions. Maybe it is because some of the finest young men in the world come from Appomattox County. The three young fighters that represented Appomattox Saturday night are an excellent example of the caliber of young men in this county.

Regional Playoff Picture

The Appomattox Raiders will meet Bassett High School, a wild card from the Piedmont District, in the opening game of the Region 3 semi-finals this Friday at 8:00 p.m. in Lynchburg City Stadium. Fieldale-Collinsville will host Alleghany High School of the Blue Ridge District in the other semi-final game Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Tickets for the Appomattox-Bassett game will be $2.00 for adults and students and advance sales will be held at the High School, Friday, 11:45 until 1:15.

A win by the Raiders will send them into the Region 3 finals on Saturday, November 18. If the opponent is Fieldale-Collinsville they will be the host team, however a game between Appomattox and Alleghany would be played in Lynchburg.

A state semi-final game between the winners of Region 3 and Region 4 will be played on Saturday, November 25.

Make plans now and continue to support the Raiders in their bid for a state Group AA championship.

ENERGY SAVING IDEAS Tips To Help You

You may be able to stay on the road to saving gasoline now and in the future if you get into gear with some useful suggestions and inventions.

Right now, you can save fuel by keeping your engine's air filter clean. An air-starved engine wastes gasoline. If every automobile consumed just one gallon of gas less a week, the country could save about 5.2 billion gallons a year.

YOU MAY SOMEDAY be able to drive your car on coal.

In about a decade, we all may be able to save scarce fuels like petroleum by running cars on our plentiful supply of coal. A pilot plant is currently being constructed that can liquefy coal and produce gasoline, heating oil and fuel oil. The plant, part of a $240-million program, is being developed by the Exxon Research and Engineering Company, to demonstrate a new process for converting coal into liquid fuels and to develop the engineering data needed for commercial-sized plants.

Many of the plant's features are based on technology acquired in the petroleum refining industry. The plant will be capable of processing 250 tons of coal a day and turning every 23 pounds of that into a gallon of oil, which can then be transformed into gasoline. Someday we may have commercial-sized plants capable of processing 20,000 tons a day.

Meanwhile, be sure to have your car tuned regularly. That can save you as much as 10 percent on gasoline costs.

NATIONAL CAREER WEEK OBSERVED

needs public understanding and support.

November 5 through November 11, 1978 - is the Thirteenth National Career Guidance Week.

"Synergistic Career Guidance: Skills For Life", the theme, emphasizes that many of the decisions which affect our careers tomorrow are, in fact, made today. Planning and establishing a career in our rapidly changing society can be a complicated matter. Today, more so than at any previous time in our history, people of all ages need the assistance of professional counselors, for work and leisure.

National Guidance Week is sponsored by the National Vocational Guidance Association - a division of the American Personnel and Guidance Association - and its local branches throughout the nation.

The future in regard to career planning often appears bewildering. Experts have identified more than 20,000 different occupations. Transportation, communication, and all other facets of our daily living are changing rapidly. So is the work which will have to be done. The need for career guidance pervades our population. It is required by the SMALL CHILD who looks at the work through distant, but inquisitive eyes. It is necessary for the adolescent attempting to explore educational and vocational options. It has a specific purpose for the YOUNG ADULT faced with the decision of selecting a training program or specific occupation.

Alabama Baptist

Prayer service were held at the Alabama Baptist Church Sunday morning at 11:30. Service was led by Miss Pearl Moore, and Mrs. Mazry Bailey; every one joined in the service. Our pastor Rev. C. L. Elliot was back from his vacation ; we welcome him and Mrs. Elliott. Regular preaching service began at 11:45. Our guest speaker was Rev. Wyatt T. Venable. Rev. ELliott's text was taken from 3rd chapter of Acts 7 - 8.The subject was Someone Who Cares.

The service was enjoyable; the Music by Jr. and Senior Choirs combined. We had one to join the ALabama Baptist CHurch; we welcome her. Our visitor from White Oak, Mt. Zion, St. Andrews, Triumph, and Mt. Lyle. We were glad to hear one of our members back. Mrs. Frances Walker has been in the hospital; she is doing very well now.

On Thanksgiving night at 7:00 there will be prayer service at 7:30. Rev. Wyatt T Venable will render the service. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Sponsor Mrs. Alice Moore.

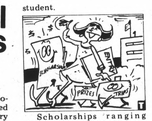
Nationwide Contest Open To Secondary Schools And Colleges

Students taking home economics or health related courses on the secondary school or college levels may be eligible for the Fleischmann's Yeast "Share The Health" Contest, with prizes including trips and scholarships.

A one-week, expenses-paid trip to St. Louis during June (site of the annual American Home Economics Association Convention) will be awarded to the national first-place junior or senior high school class and its teacher, and to the top-ranking college student.



Scholarships ranging from $1,000 to $250 will be awarded to the top three winners and runners-up on both secondary and college levels. Additional prizes include pizza bashes, dinners-for-two and other trips.

All participants benefit from active involvement in their local communities, and from the nation's menu planning and budget management knowledge gained.

Entering junior/senior high school classes and individual college students must choose a specific community segment and analyze that group's nutritional needs. Practical, healthful and tasty meals must be planned and shared with the study group.

The eligible community groups include: senior citizens, children under 12, pregnant women, low-income families, athletic teams, overweight persons, adults living alone, and persons on special medical diets.

A free contest rules folder and entry blank is available by writing: Standard Brands Education Service, Drawer "A", Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Introducing the Bill Payer. The sweetest sounding service your two ears have ever heard.

Now, American Federal Savings and Loan brings you the Bill Payer: the most convenient new service you've ever seen—or heard.

How sweet it is.

You see, the Bill Payer is actually a very special kind of savings account. And what makes it so sweet is the fact that it lets you pay your bills over the telephone—all in a matter of minutes.

In just a few simple steps, you can pay your utility bills, car payment, insurance premiums, you name it.

You save the time and money and hassle of mailing out bills every month. Because the Bill Payer puts paying bills right at your fingertips.

And with the statement you get every month, you have a complete record of all your transactions for your files.

You earn a sweet 5¼% interest, too.

While the Bill Payer pays bills just like a checking account, it earns interest like a savings account. When you open a Bill Payer account, your money earns 5¼% interest—right up till the time it's needed to pay bills.

It all adds up to a really sweet deal.

It's convenient. It's economical. It's fun. And it gives you complete control of your finances.

It's the Bill Payer. And American Federal has it right now.

So, why let your money sit idle—when it could be earning interest with the Bill Payer?

To find out more, stop by American Federal and listen to how the Bill Payer works—with your own two ears.

We promise you'll like what you hear.
